

Trampoline 2000 Series

The Trampoline 2000 has been proving it's worth for 20 years and offers guaranteed quality under continuous use by all age groups—Ideal for example, as playground equipment in school playgrounds. The equipment is delivered ready for use and can be set up without any installation work on grass or sand surfaces, or alternatively it can also be installed at surface level by means of concrete foundations or with an optimum buried frame for quick and easy installation. The design ensures that the jumping height is reduced to a safe level.
